Audrey Jensen Weds Norman Nilsson In Alberta Temple

A double ring ceremony performed by Pres. Smith in the Alberta Temple recently united in marriage Audrey Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jensen, and Norman K. Nilsson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Linden Nilsson of Stirling.

A lovely bouffant garden dress of net over taffeta was worn by the bride as she with her husband received the good wishes of their many friends, against the natural background of flowers and trees on the lawn of her parents home. She wore long white gloves extending to the short sleeves of her net bolero, and a matching veil fell softly from a halo of pearls. The bridal bouquet was of red and white gladioli.

Receiving the guests with the bride and groom were Rae Allen, Shirley Frazer and Sharlene Graham, wearing gowns of mauve, blue and mauve and carrying bouquets of daisies. Standing with the groom were his two brothers Donald and Eldredge with Duane Frazer and Doug Allen as ushers. Mrs. Jensen chose for her daughter's wedding, a green lace dress while Mrs. Nilsson was attired in a black frock; both of them wearing a corsage of bronze dahlias.

As the guests arrived they were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowden and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woolf while Vivian Fawns presided at the Guest Book. The gifts were accepted by little Marilyn Ralph and Charlotte Nilsson and given to Carrie Jensen, Wilma Jensen, Edna Kubota, Karen McLean and Sandra McLean who arranged them attractively on the table.

Jolayne Hill and Irene Bowden were luncheon hostesses assisted by eight friends of the bride from Stirling and Raymond who served at tables prettily decorated with sweet peas. Those working behind the scenes were Gertrude Hicks, Lulu Stevenson and Eva Ralph.

Closing Week At Waterton Girls Home

—Fun and Frolic

In spite of rain and bad roads, the last week at the L. D. S. Girl's Home in Waterton was a huge success.

With Zettella G. Taylor, Pres. of the Taylor Stake Y. W. M. I. A. as camp Mother, and Aha Peterson as Camp and Sports Director, every one was kept in a happy mood and all were well taken care of through out the week.

Monday and Tuesday, August 23, 24, were days reserved for the Special Interest Groups under the direction of Stake Leader Fanny H. Walker, and the walls of the Dorm vibrated with song, laughter and sheer joy as 48 mothers of the Taylor Stake gathered for two days of relaxation and fun. Should there have been a contest to see which of all the 6 groups of the M. I. A. sang the most, laughed the most, or made the most noise, the mothers would probably have won first place. Even grandma, Louisa Coffin, 82, the oldest member there, expressed herself as having had a wonderful time.

It was indeed a pleasing sight which greeted one's gaze upon opening the Dorm door. Groups here and there, chatting, laughing, or playing games. Others in a semi-circle around the blazing fire in the huge fire place, knitting, crocheting, reading or just chatting and laughing. The evening was spent looking at colored slides of home folk and scenery of our Canadian Rockies. Ruth Salmon then led the mothers in community marching. Elizabeth King said the evening prayer after which 48 mothers quietly? undressed and silently? rolled into bed.

Tuesday morning after a breakfast of hot biscuits, honey, jam, bacon, eggs and cocoa, each lady was handed a booklet in which she was to write a get acquainted sketch of each new friend she had met at the "Home". Lucy Christensen received first prize for the cleverest write up, Lisadore Crookston 2nd, and Nonavee Jones 3rd. Tuesday afternoon was spent in listening to a very interesting book review, "Maurine" given by Lisadore Crookston of Magrath.

At one time the ladies were grouped for camera shots when Mary, the Deer came round the corner and in front of the group as if to say "Here I am, take me too!", which we did.

The climax of two very enjoyable days came when the husbands of some of the ladies came to take them home, when everyone enjoyed a delicious buffet supper. The remaining group at the "Home" waved goodbye and sang "Good Night Ladies" as the Special Interest members happily wended their way homeward.

Early the next morning 33 lively, happy Gleaner and Junior Gleaner girls began arriving for a three day stay at the camp under the direction of Stake Gleaner Leader, Dora King, assisted by Elizabeth King and the Gleaner Junior Gleaner leaders of the wards, Margaret Leishman and Dorothy Spencer of Magrath, Viola Meeks and Vivian Fawns of Raymond and Velda Hirsche of Stirling. Wednesday was a beautiful day and the girls made the best of every moment, taking lunch and hiking into Waterton to Cameron Falls where they shared part of their lunch with a friendly deer. In the evening they hiked back to enjoy a show and dance.

Thurs. and Friday the girls spent in games, dancing, hand crafts, candy pulling, and programs which were outstanding, portraying some very fine talents of a group of very fine girls.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Honnie Heninger entertained at a Pioneer Party in honor of Mrs. Lottie Knight, at which everyone present had been requested to bring a story of the early days in Raymond. Interesting tales were told by Mesdames Grace Allen, Stella Taylor, Norma Wood, Viola Wing, Fanny Walker, Kate Card, Vanda Grey, Jane Brewerton, Louella Brandley, Edda Brandley, Eva Noyes, Mabel Heninger, Florella Palmer, Elizabeth Green, Dot Witbeck, Anne King, Lillian Roberts, Phoebe Evans, Emma and Phoebe Dahl, and Pearl Heninger, followed by a delightful lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Depew motored to Great Falls to spend the weekend.

Japanese Palace Opened to Public on Daily Basis

Japan's Imperial Palace has been opened to sight-seers for the first time on a daily basis.

Heretofore, the moat-surrounded home of Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako was open to the public only on special occasions.

Confronted with the sentence a naughty boy had chalked on the school wall about a teacher—"Smith is a lunatic"—two little girls, horrified, expressed their disapproval.

"Isn't that terrible?" one of them exclaimed. "What a thing to write!" "It's awful," agreed the other. "It should be 'Mr. Smith, shouldn't it?'"

Facts Seeker Gets Nickel's Worth—Plus

Newly naturalized Adam Lis knows a little more about the laws of his adopted country that he picked up studying for his citizenship papers.

Mr. Lis, a laboratory technician, parked his state-owned University of California car—then wondered whether he should put his own nickel in the parking meter.

He crossed the street and asked Policeman Clayton Fredenburg.

The officer explained that even official cars are not exempt from parking fees.

Then Officer Fredenburg gave Mr. Lis a two-dollar ticket for jaywalking.

"I've got a rather distasteful job," remarked a genealogist. "A woman employed me to look up her family tree, and I've got to inform her that one of her relatives was electrocuted for murder in America."

"Don't worry about that," replied his friend. "Just write that the man occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of America's public institutions."

The bank president rushed into the bank looking for the cashier only to find he was not at his window. When he inquired as to his whereabouts, he was informed that the cashier was at the races.

"Gone to the races during business hours," cried the president.

"Yes, sir," 'tis his last chance to make the books balance."

Two parrots escaped from their cages and took refuge among the trees in the grounds of a mental institution. The owner of the birds asked the director of the asylum to help get them back. The director thought this might be possible as one of the inmates believed himself to be a monkey. He asked this man to locate the parrots, one red and the other green.

After an hour or so, the fellow walked in with the red bird held firmly in his hand.

"What about the green parrot?" he was asked.

"I wouldn't take that one from his perch—he wasn't ripe," the climber explained.

Cut Off

"Does this lodge have any death benefits?"

"Sure. When you die you don't have to pay anymore dues."

A young officer was very small and helpless-looking, and when he appeared before his men audible comments were made about his apparent ineptness.

From the rear of the ranks a voice said: "And a little child shall lead them."

Seemingly undisturbed, the officer finished the business of the day. But the next day there appeared a notice on the board: "A company will take an 18-mile route march with full packs. And a little child shall lead them—in a jeep!"

A man was introduced to a circus sword swallower. Not having seen a sword swallower before, he asked him to demonstrate his art, whereupon the fellow apparently swallowed some pins and needles.

"But," protested the man, "those aren't swords; they're just pins and needles."

"I know," was the reply. "I'm on a diet."

Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. David Stewart and Barbara enjoyed the beautiful drive over the Logan Pass and through Many Glacier Park last week. Another day was spent in Waterton and Red Rock Canyon picnicking and enjoying the view.

Making tests of a home-made brew which a cautious Scot had submitted for analysis, the chemist said: "I'm sorry, but this stuff is dreadful. If you drank this I guarantee you would be blind for life. You'd better let me destroy it."

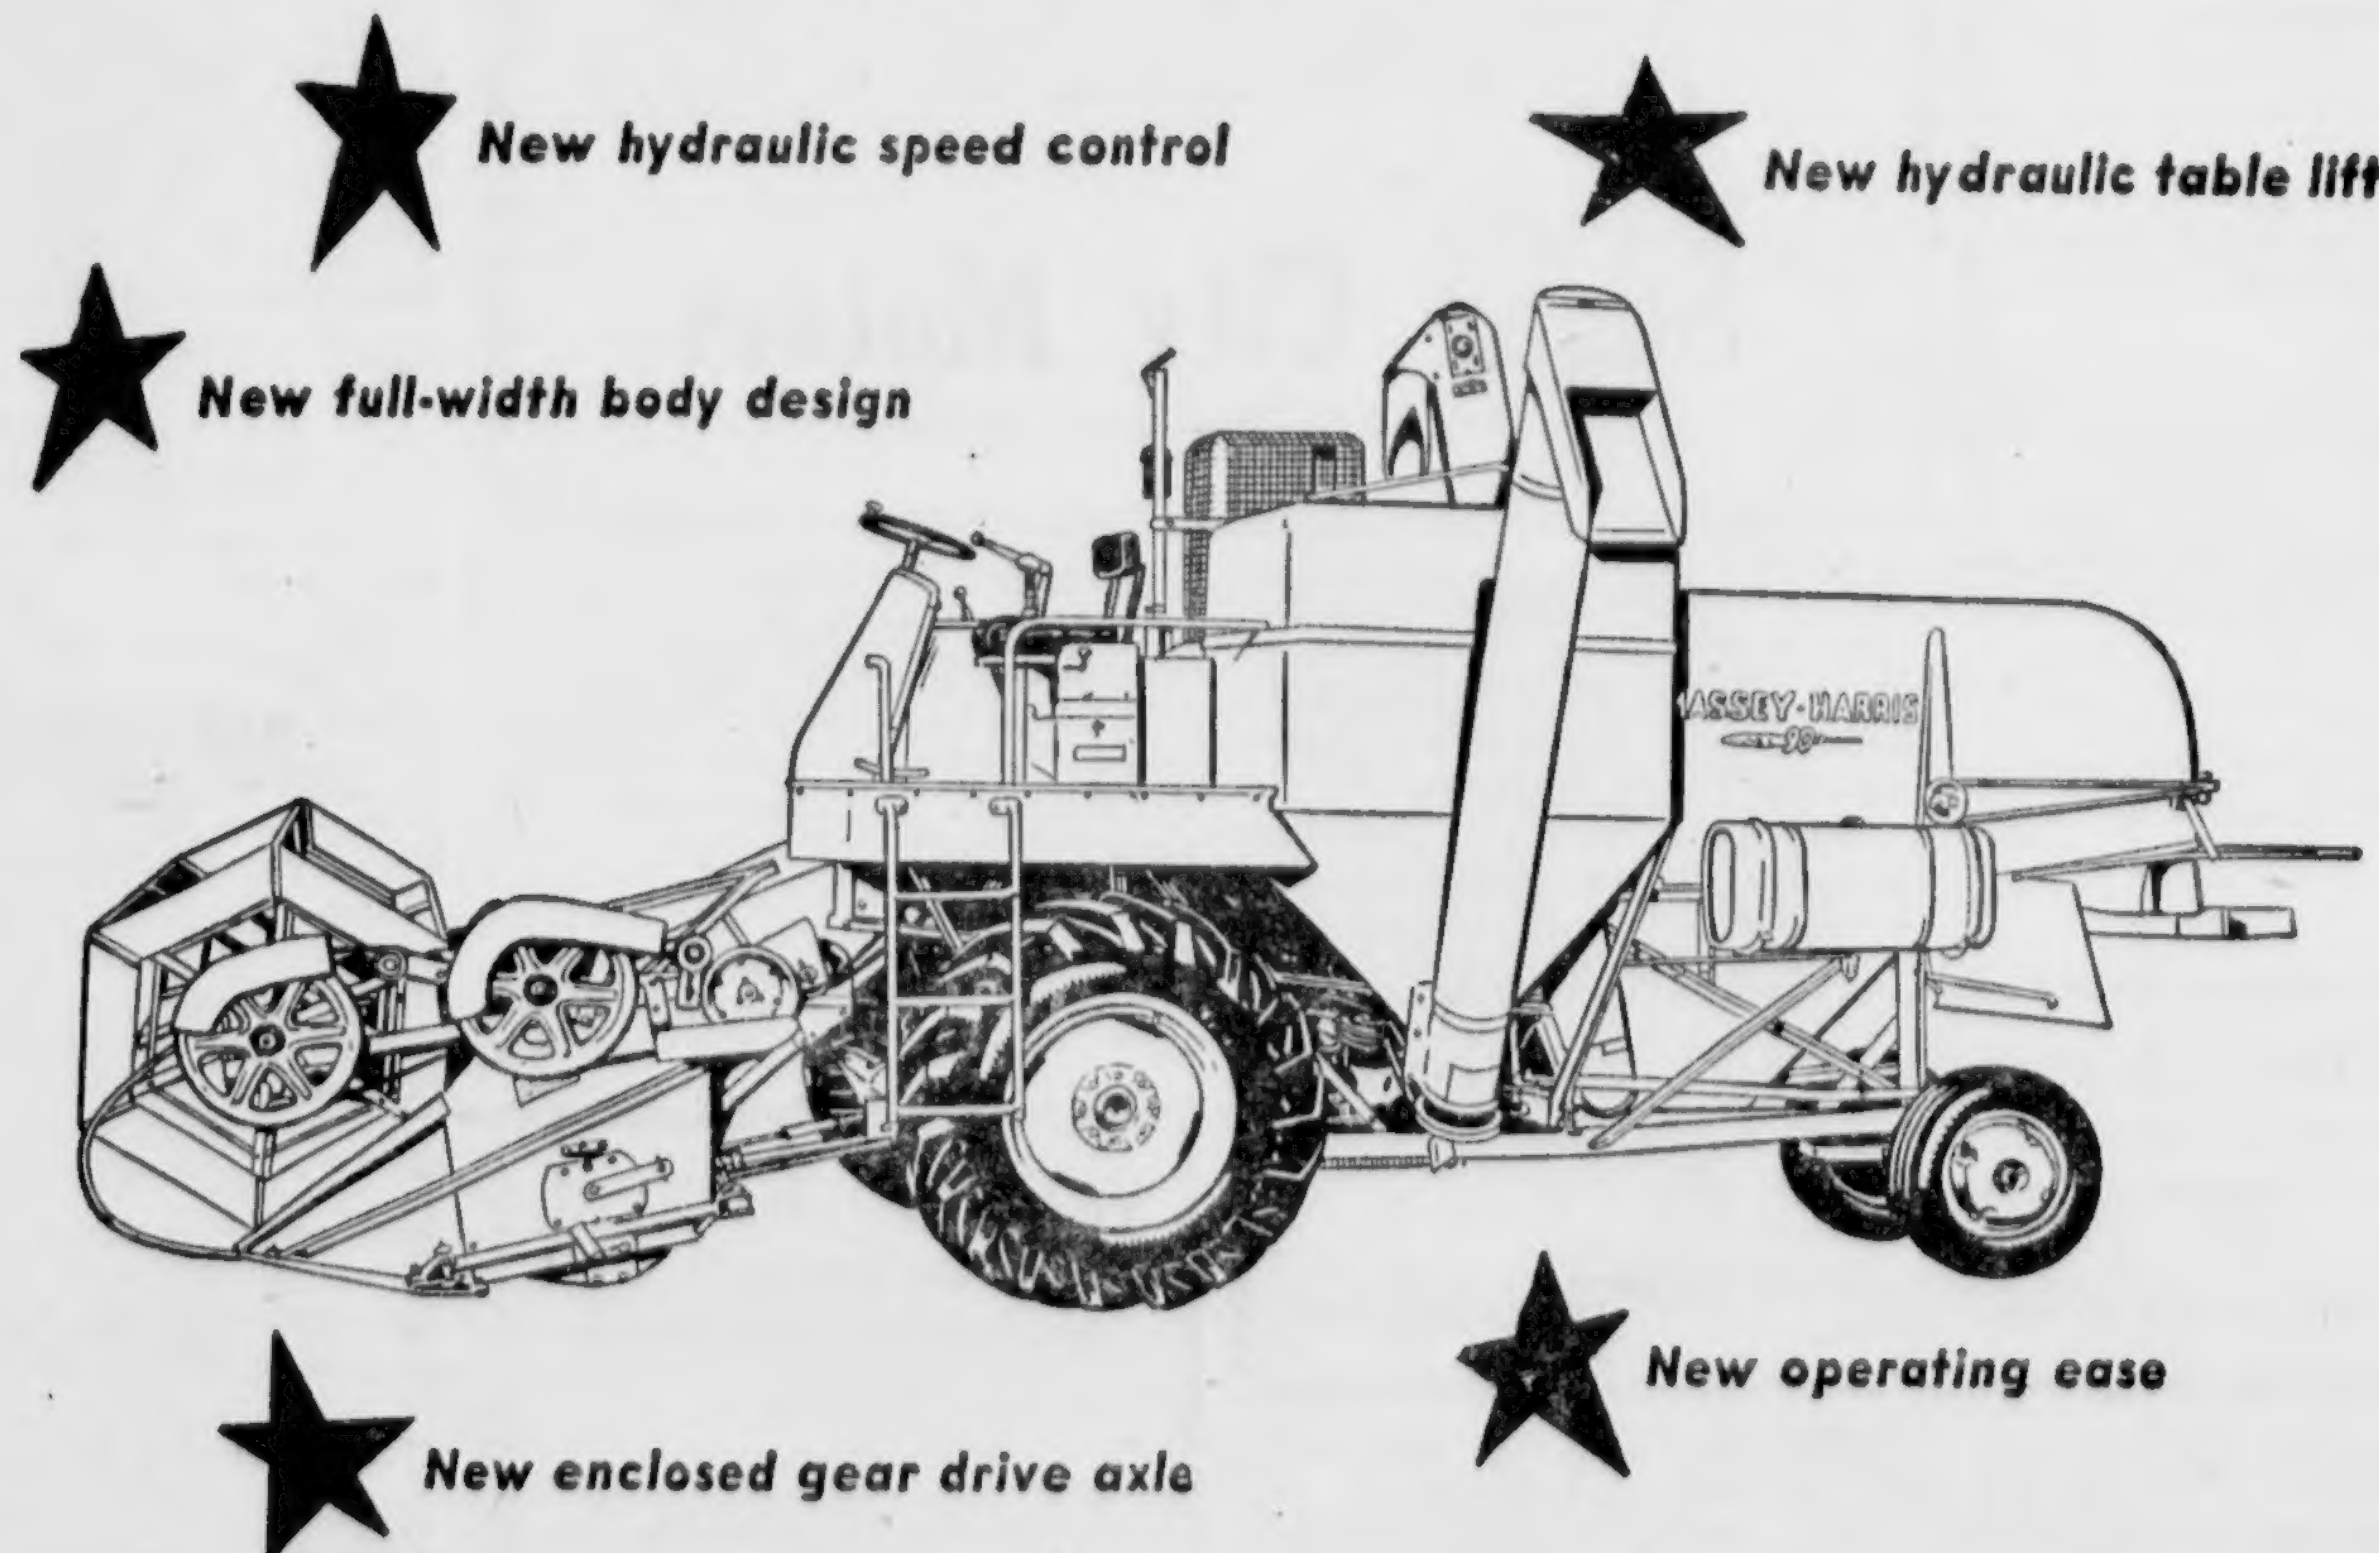

"No need to do that," said the Scot, stretching out a hand for the bottle. "My old friend McTavish has been blind for years. I might as well give it to him for a birthday present."
